HARRISBURG, Jan. 11, 1867. Durg Legislature adjourned this morning The Harrisburg Legislature adjourned that until Monday evening.

The Bribery and Corruption Committee made a partial report this morning, stating thus far not a particle of evidence had been elicited to show guilt, indelicacy or even imprudence on the part of any candidate for United States Senatorship, and that those who made charges had failed entirely to prove them.

MASSACHUSETTS LEGISLATURE.

Boston, Jan. 11, 1867. In the Legislature to-day the report of the commis sioners on the hours of labor was presented. Two of the commissioners are of the opinion that no legislation commissioner reports in favor of the enactment of ten-hours as a legal standard for a day's labor in the ousi-ness contracts of factories and farms, and a similar effectment of eight hours as a legal standard in the business contracts for mechanical labor.

The House Judiciary Committee were to-day directed to consider the expediency of abolishing the reading and writing qualification for voters.

MICHIGAN LEGISLATURE.

Resolved, that the action of Congress in promotly nassing over the President's veto the bill annulling all distinction on account of color in the exercise of the elective franchise in the District of Columbia, merits and receives hearty and unqualified approval of this Legislature.

NEVADA LEGISLATURE.

Governor Blaisdell sent in his first message to-day, accompanied by reports from various State officera. It shows the State debt to be $278,000; balance in the treasury January 1, $51,000; receipts for last fiscal year, $425,000; disbursements, $320,000; balance on hand, about $136,000.

The Legislature is not fairly to work yet. A resolution was passed that a vote be taken for United States Senator on Tuesday next.

Ratification of the Constitutional Amement-The Senatorship.

The House joint resolution ratifying the United States constitutional amendment was concurred in by the Senate to-day unanimously, without discussion. A large delegation of Leavemorth's best men are here in the interests of their Senatorial candidate, ex-Governor Kearney. Their excitement shows no abatement. The opposing candidates are forming combinations to defeat the re-election of Pomeroy.

TORONTO, C. W., Jan. 11, 1867.

The trial of the Fenian prisoners was resumed this morning, the court opening at ten o'clock A. M., Judge Morrison presiding. Large numbers of spectators were present, it being rumored that Lynch and McMahon would be brought into court as witnesses. The Ron. R. A. Harrison, Queen's Counsel, and J. H. Cameron appeared for the Crown, and Hon. E. McKenzie and Mr. forphy for the American government. Hon. D. Th ton, American Consul, occupied a seat next to the pris-oners' counsel. During the delay in empanelling a jury quite a warm discussion was carried on by the legal gentlemen on the reception of Lord Carnarvon's letter by read the indictment, in which the prisoner is charged with having invaded the province of Upper Canada in June last with other evil disposed persons, for the purpose of levying war on her Majesty. The prisoner pleaded not guilty. Hon. J. H. Cameron, Queen's Counsel, opened the case on behalf of the Crown.

The first witness called was George Nettle, who testified that a body of men styled Fenians, under the command of General O'Neill, crossed from Black Rock on the 1st of June to Fort Erie, some of them being armed and dressed in United States uniform.

John hadcaif testified that he was at Ridgeway on the 2d of June, and that they met a body of men who fired on them and compelled them to retreat, and that several of the men belonging to the Queen's Own were killed and wounded, witness went to the jail to see the prisoners after their arrival here, and saw the prisoner there; the prisoner told him that he was an American, born in Ireland; that he resided in Mississippi, and that he was at Ridgeway, where he was wounded in the neck.

Edward Hodder testified to having helped to dress the wound of the prisoner, which was a gunshot wound. This concluded the case for the Crown.

Mr. McKennie then offered five affidavits testifying to the good character of the prisoner, which were received by the Court. The prisoner, in the affidavits, is said to have been a well disposed person, and a man who was easily led astray.

John Grace testified to having drunk with Kelly on the afternoon of the 1st of June: the prisoner than informed.

AN APOLOGY is due to the multitudes who were unable to precure copie of last week's paper. A "rusk" was espected, and it was thought had been provided for; but the extra edition was quite too small to meet the extra demand. It was "gobbled" up before noon, to the last copy, and still the hungry public was unsatisfied. was unsatisfied. NO DISAPPOINTMENTS to-morrow, as the ordinary edition of the SUNDAY MER-CURY will be increased SIX THOUSAND COPIES, in order to meet the pressure for the new story. Excluding this addition, however, the GREAT SUNDAY JOURNAL
has a circulation which exceeds that of all the other Sunday newspapers printed in the city of New York MULTIPLIED BY THREE.
